

Review of Current City Public Art Collection

Because of the City's efforts, notable art installations have already been installed.

- Murals
 - The Great Migration of the Monarch Butterflies by world renowned artist Rigo 23 at the St. Leander's School Gymnasium, across from the San Leandro BART Station. The 24'x180' mural, though not originally designed for San Leandro, is site specific as the monarch butterflies migrate to San Leandro to winter at the Monarch Bay Golf Course and Marina.
 - The Pulse of Nature hand painted mural is a collaborative effort between George Mead/Wet Studios and Les Seymour/Mural Arts Studio. Local artist Mike Alvarez of San Leandro assisted in the mural production and contributed his technique to the lower portion of the mural. The mural is on the side of Preferred Freezer and is one of the largest murals in the region, measuring 60' x 350'. The mural, completed in 2014, is a nod to San Leandro's rich agricultural heritage and its founding by Portuguese immigrants. It is visible from the BART line.
 - The Don Clever Mural at 88 Market in the Manor Shopping Plaza. Mr. Clever was a San Francisco-based designer and muralist with numerous works around the Bay Area including a mural of Moses descending Mount Sinai in San Francisco's Temple Sherith Israel.
- Utility box art program – completed at multiple locations throughout the City with additional locations in the works. Some locations contain two or three boxes.
- Art installations available to the public in private developments include:
 - The forthcoming Truth is Beauty, a 55 foot tall steel sculpture of a woman, by Maro Cochrane, at the Tech Campus by Westlake. This project was part of a development agreement that includes a provision of 1% of project value dedicated to an arts piece. Truth is Beauty is the second in a three part series of monumental sculptures of a woman, Deja Solis, expressing her humanity. One thousand five hundred (1,500) individual multi-colored LED lights are distributed throughout her body. These lights are controlled by a custom iPad application to create a spectacular light show enhancing and expanding the visual experience.
 - Raymond Lowey, the "Father of Industrial Design, decorative tiles were installed at both the Kaiser Medical Center and The Village in 2014. The tiles were discovered at the former Lucky Grocery distribution center, on the site of the new hospital. The Village is located at the site of the first ever Lucky Grocery store, so the tiles have historical significance to both locations.
- AC Transit East 14th BRT Station Art – two bus stops are gearing up for artistic enhancements: E 14th St at Georgia Way and Davis at Hays.
- Living Innovation Zone interactive sound installation by the Exploratorium in the pedestrian plaza on Joaquin at E 14th St.
