DAYLIGHTING LAW

Effective 2025, AB 413 bans vehicle parking within 20 feet of the vehicle approach side of a crosswalk to make intersections safer for pedestrians.

- The law applies whether the crosswalk is marked or unmarked and regardless of if the curb is painted red.
- The parking ban is reduced to 15 feet of any crosswalk with a curb extension.

HOW IT WORKS

Leaving a clearance of 20 feet provides a greater field of visibility for all roadway users (as shown in scenarios #3 and #4), whereas not providing that clearance greatly reduces the visibility (as shown in scenarios #1 and #2 to the left)

Intersection Daylighting

What Is Daylighting?

The new Daylighting Law (California Assembly Bill 413) went into effect January 1, 2024, and prohibits parking within 20 feet of the vehicle approach side of any marked or unmarked crosswalk or 15 feet of any crosswalk where a curb extension is present, even if there are no signs or curb markings present.

Why Daylighting?

The goal of the new law is to improve the safety of all roadway users by increasing visibility at intersections. Vehicles that are parked immediately adjacent to marked or unmarked crossings limit visibility of pedestrians, which increases the risk for pedestrian related severe injury or fatal collisions. Removing the obstruction of parked vehicles will allow drivers to have a clear view of pedestrians waiting to cross the street while at the same time allowing pedestrians to see approaching cars without having to step into the intersection to see past a parked vehicle before crossing.

What You Can Do

Leave at least 20 feet, the length of one large car, between your car and a painted or unpainted crosswalk.

How It Works

Leaving a clearance of 20 feet provides a greater field of visibility for all roadway users (as shown in scenarios #3 and #4 to the left), whereas not providing that clearance greatly reduces the visibility (as shown in scenarios #1 and #2 to the left).
