My name is Stephen Michael Tow, a resident of District 1, and I have lived in San Leandro for 6 years. Welcome to our new police chief, Abdul Pridgen! I look forward to the level of professionalism, integrity, and leadership you will bring to this position. I hope, time permitting, to meet with you in person and discuss what your plans are to engage in meaningful law enforcement reform here in San Leandro as we reimagine what public safety actually means and looks like in practice.

I encourage the city to amend outdated zoning requirements along major travel corridors in the city, such as Davis, Williams, Bancroft, Halcyon, and Floresta, to increase the availability of affordable, sustainable, and modern housing that meets the needs of our growing city. We have been significantly hampered by jealous nostalgia for how San Leandro "used to be" instead of what San Leandro actually needs to be as a modern community in a major metropolitan region.

When I look at our Capital Improvement Program plan, I see a city with a lot of growing pains, showing signs of neglect, and that is going to be faced with hard choices today but even harder ones tomorrow. It's easy for someone to ask for sacrifices when it's not their home, their street, or their block on the proverbial chopping block. Yet, that's exactly what we need to do. We need to sacrifice together to rehabilitate on infrastructure before it's too late.
