Tom, I am really happy to see a project developed at the site located on Marina Blvd. I recall 30 years ago making one of the worst decisions I ever made while a member of the City Council. Back in the late eighties, a developer came before us with a project for the site. In my infamous wisdom, I felt the units were too small and spoke out against the project; I got the full Council to agree with me and the project died and nothing has been suggested for that property since the eighties.

After the Council meeting, whereby I made the motion to reject the proposal, Steve Myers came up to me after the meeting and suggested I made a big mistake in moving to reject the project.

Myers was right and I have regretted my actions ever since . Every time I passed the location I realize my error . My apologies go our to the owners of the property and to the developer who wanted to build the housing units proposed. If need be, U can use my comments; if U feel, I should attend the Council meeting when the proposal goes before the Council, advise and I will try and attend.
